

Federico Sanchez
Illustrative essay
HU090-A/Frawley
3/13/08

The Sure Way to Get Your Paper Shredded in Frawley's Class

Despite his efforts, it's possible and very simple to get your paper shredded in Frawley's class.

First, your writing must be rubbish! In other words, do not use plain, simple or proper English. Also don't use any direct or strong words in your paper, because if you do, Frawley may find out that you know how to write. So, be careful. If Frawley were to find out you know proper English, he may not shred your paper. If the goal is to have Frawley shred your paper, write as rubbish-like as you can to be certain your paper gets shredded.

Don't be concise. Before you start writing, go to the ghetto to find some more slang words. If you do, you won't have to worry about your paper not getting shredded. Any rubbish-like words will work. Avoid listening to Frawley. He could influence proper language. Concentrate on writing the words you learn from the ghetto and your paper is sure to get shredded.

Never follow any of the Frawley's rules when writing. Always assume that your reader knows everything you are talking about. Also, always write boring stories to make sure Frawley shreds your paper. Writing rubbish-like English is better than writing proper English, because your paper will never be shredded using proper English. You must use rubbish-like English in order to have Frawley destroy your paper.

Remember, the way to get your paper shredded, is by not following Frawley's rules. Always avoid using proper English. Most importantly, never listen to Frawley he can influence proper English.